Other parts of the country have had their public thanksgiving and jubilees in honor of the historic events of the past year, but nowhere has there been greater rejoicing than among the people here, the gathered represen- latter's room, and it is understood distatives of the south. I congratulate them upon their accurate observation of events, which enabled them to fix a date which insured them the peace by the American and Spanish commissioners. Under hostile fire on a foreign soil, fighting in a common cause, the memory of old disagreements has faded into history. From camp and campaign there come the magic healing which has closed ancient | which marks cloak room discussion. wounds and effaced their scars. For this result every American patriot will forever rejoice. It is no small indemnity for the cost of the war. This government has proved itself invincible in the recent war, and out of it has come a nation which will remain indivisible for evermore. No worthier contributions have been made in patriotism and in men than by the people of these southern states. When at last the opportunity came they were eager to meet it, and with promptness responded to the call of country. Intrusted with the able leadership of men dear to them, who had marched with their fathers, under another flag, now fighting under the old flag again, they have gloriously helped to defend its spotless folds and added new luster to its shining stars. That flag has been planted in two hemispheres, and there it remains the symbol of liberty and law, or peace and progress. Who will withdraw from the people over whom it floats its protecting folds? Who will haul it down? We could have avoided all the difficulties that lies across the pathway of the nation if a few months ago we had coldly ignored the piteous appeals of the starving and oppressed inhabitants of Cuba. If we had blinded ourselves to the conditions so near our shores and turned a deaf car to our suffering neighbors, the issue of territorial expansion in the Antilles and the East Indies would not have been

But could we have justified such a couse? Is there any one who would now declare another to have been the better course? With less humanity and less courage on our part, the Spanish flag, instead of the Stars and Strips, would still be floating at Cavite, at Ponce, and at Santiago, and a "chance in the race of life" would be wanting to millions of human beings who to-day call this nation noble, and who, I trust, will live to call it blessed.

Thus far we have done our supreme duty. Shall we now, when the victory won in war is written in the treaty of peace, and the civilized world applauds and waits in expectation, turn timidly away from the duties imposed upon the country by its own great deeds? And when the mists fade and we see with clearer vision, may we not go forth rejoicing in a strength which has been employed solely for humanity and always been tempered with justice and mercy, confident in our ability to meet the exigencies which await us. because confident that our course is one of duty and our cause that of right.

AT THIS SESSION

Believed Peace Treaty Will Be Taken Up For Discussion in January.

The Holiday Recess in the House Will Be gin Thursday and Extend Until January 4-The Appropriations Are Very Well Advanced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 .- The week in the senate opened with a speech by Senator Platt, of Connecticut, on the question of expansion. Mr. Platt will reply to the speech of Senator Vest made last Monday, as he has given very careful attention to the extension of our territorial area no little interest is manifested among senators in his presentation of the matter, and it is not improbable, unless the Nicaragua bill prevents. that the speech will precipitate a more or less general debate upon this question. Whether it does or not a numwill be made after the Christmas holiof the peace treaty.

It is hoped that the treaty will be taken up for discussion early in January. Already there is talk of the pression favorable to this result is growing. A few senators manifest a disposition to debate the treaty at ength, and some profess analterable opposition, but the feeling is so strong against an extra session and in favor of the postponement of the atification without material delay.

The indications are, how- of white roses. ever, against such an early disposal of the subject, and it may be accepted as THE TRAIN LEFT THE TRACK. quite certain that even if Senator Turpie's motion for postponement till January 10 should not prevail, the bill will be naturally thrown over beyond the holidays. It is evidently the purpose of the opposition to prevent action during the few remaining days prior to adjournment. The bill concerning the registry of foreign built vessels wrecked on the American coast is still on the calendar as a special order and Scnator Elkins will probably make another effort to secure consideration. Senator Cullom has also expressed a desire to get up the anti-scalping bill. Both these measures will be antagonized and probably thrown over to January.

In the house the holiday recess by the terms of the resolution reported by the ways and means committee is to begin Thursday and extend until Wednesday, January 4. It is likely, however, that the resolution will be amended so as to make the recess begin Wednesday instead of Thursday. The appropriation bills are further advanced now than they have been for many years at the short session. Already the naval and army deficiency, a special bill, and three of the regular bills-the pension, District of Columbia and Indianhave passed the house. The agricultural bill was reported Saturday and will be taken up on Tuesday. Four of the regular money budgets out of 13 will, therefore, have passed the lower house before the holiday recess, an unprecedented thing in legislative

Gen. Merritt Thinks It Will Require an Army of 30,000 Men to Hold the Philippine Islands-He Considers Aguinaldo a Shrewd Min.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.-Maj. Gen. Wesley Merritt, late commander of the United States military forces in the Philippine islands, from which post he was called to Paris to consult with the American peace commissioners, reached this city Saturday on board the steamer Lucania, from Queenstown. With Gen. Merritt were his bride, her mother, Mrs. Norman Williams and Norman Williams, jr., of Chicago, and Capt. L. H. Strother, aide-de-camp on the staff of Gen. Merritt. In an interview the general said: "I can say, however, that there is no foundation for the report that Adm. Dewey's health has broken down as a result of his wonderful work in Manila harbor on May 1 last. He was in fine physical condition when I left him, and he was then over the strain of the naval fight. There is another thing that I would like the people to know. It is that the climate of the Philippines is not by any means as it is said to be. I met a number of Europeans there who had been in the country for 14 years or more, and they seemed to thrive, and had no serious complaints about the climate to make. The mortality among our troops sent to preserve order there would not be as great as some would have the people believe. "As to Gen. Miles' bill to increase the United States army to 100,000, at present I can not discuss the proposed measure, for the reason that I have not yet seen a copy of it. I think it will take about 30,000 soldiers to hold the islands in case this country desires to keep them, and I see no reason why it should not.

"I have no comment to make on the so-called expansion which is being discussed pro and con these days. There are many Spaniards on the islands that want to remain there. With 15,000 United States soldiers and the remaining 15,000 evenly divided between the Filipinos and Spaniards I feel sure the islands could be governed properly and that the supply will diminish .- Atchison with credit to this country.
